47% of South Africans are considered impoverished by being under the national poverty line of US$43 a month and the number of people living on less than US$1 a day has doubled from 2,000,000 in 1994 to 4,000,000 in 2006. The remnants of apartheid-era spatial segregation of Black South Africans to impoverished rural areas is correlated with higher levels of poverty among them.

Moving from back office to front office? Every year, a lot of young professionals decide to start their careers in investment banks' back offices. People work in back offices for various reasons: easier hours/lifestyle, because they did not make it into a front-office job and hoped it was the best step towards the front office, or because they simply didn't know the difference between back and ...
