The earliest forms of written communication originated in Sumer (Vine culture), followed by Sumer, located in southern Mesopotamia about 3500-3000 BCE. During this era, literacy was "a largely functional matter, propelled by the need to manage the new quantities of information and the new type of governance created by trade and large scale production".

The U.S. Department of Education painted a somewhat bleak picture of the state of arts education in America's schools this week. According to new findings – the first government survey in a decade that tracks the availability of arts in schools – fewer elementary schools are offering visual arts, dance and drama classes than during a decade ago.

Natural variations are evident in the data, of course. The most prominent cycles over geological time are governed by (among other effects) Milankovitch cycles which are caused by periodic variations in the Earth's orbit. Bizarrely, the CO<sub>2</sub> concentration is at 380 ppm parts per million today. That's ~26% higher than it's been in the last half million years.
