Abstract. The evolution of computerized systems for the production of dental restorations associated to the development of novel microstructures for ceramic materials has caused an important change in the clinical workflow for dentists and technicians, as well as in the treatment options offered to patients.

Text mining, also referred to as text data mining, roughly equivalent to text analytics, is the process of deriving high-quality information from text. High-quality information is typically derived through the devising of patterns and trends through means such as statistical pattern learning. Text mining usually involves the process of structuring the input text (usually parsing, along with the ...

Photodetectors exploiting hot electrons have the potential to achieve ultrahigh sensitivity and provide a broadband detection capability. The work by Changlong Liu, Lin Wang, Xiaoshuang Chen and co-workers (article number 1800836) features a novel high-gain photodetection mechanism aimed at the long-wavelength photon band via optical-electrical control of intrinsic hot carriers in graphene.
